

Open Call for New Partner Schools!

WHO WE ARE

Founded in 2014 by renowned architect Frank Gehry and arts education advocate Malissa Shriver, Turnaround Arts: California is a nonprofit organization that helps California's public schools integrate the arts into the classroom and beyond. We partner with The Kennedy Center's Turnaround Arts Program.

WHAT WE OFFER

- 1:1 principal leadership coaching
- Small group coaching for Arts Leadership Team
- Professional development workshops and series
- Direct financial grants for arts programs
- Membership in the greater Turnaround Arts Network of 650+ fellow educators

RECORDED WEBINAR

Watch a recorded webinar to learn more about the partnership program and application process.

DOES THIS DESCRIBE YOU?

- ✓ Do you believe the arts are key to the creation of thriving schools?
- ✓ Do you and your team model a growth mindset?
- ✓ Do you lead with a sense of urgency and commitment to equity?
- ✓ Are you seeking new ways to use the arts in teaching, learning, culture, climate, and family engagement?

ELIGIBILITY

- Public elementary or middle schools
- Schools with around 75% or greater student population who qualify for free or reduced price lunch

We especially encourage schools that meet one or more of the following criteria to apply:

- Schools serving majority students of color
- Schools serving English Language Learners
- Schools located in rural communities, Bay Area, and LA River
- Schools identified by California for "comprehensive support and improvement"

"Arts education isn't something we add on after we've reached other priorities like raising test scores and getting kids into college. It's actually critical for achieving those priorities in the first place. That's what the Turnaround Arts program is all about."

– Former First Lady Michelle Obama
